If Isaac had his deserts, he wd receive severe punishment for the House, Tools & Seasoned stuff which has been burned by his carelessness. He must have left the fire in a very unjustifiable situation, or have been a fine time absent from it, for such an accident to have happened before it was too late to have extinguished it. I wish you to inform him, that I sustain injury enough by their idleness—they need not add to it by their carelessness. The present work-shop (Barn) will do very well; at least ‘till there is more leizure for altering that, or erecting another.

More than ordinary attention too, to the Tools & Implements of the Farms, will be required; not only at Dogue run but at the others also; for it is inconceivable that Isaac always and Joe frequently should be employed in making & repairing Ploughs & Carts; abuse, more than the use of these things, must be the cause of it, and requires to be looked into with an investigating Eye.
